Born in Oneida, NY on October 23, 1948, Roxann was the daughter of John and Margaret (Colway) Orcutt. Raised and educated in Oneida, she graduated from MVCC where she received an Associate degree in Business. She went on to earn her Bachelor's degree from SUNY. She loved to cook, and everyone will have fond memories of her "mystery soup". She looked forward to winters spent in Florida where she participated in fitness classes and line dancing. She had an easy rapport with people, a necessary attribute for the years she spent selling Lia Sophia jewelry. She also enjoyed listening to National Public Radio (NPR). Roxann practiced her Catholic faith at Sacred Heart and St. Mary's Church.

Roxann is survived by her husband, Joseph; and her son, Matheau Moore and his wife Emily Noble of Westernville, Ohio. She cherished the memory of her son Brian Moore who preceded her. She also leaves her grandson, Joey Moore. She held close to her heart the memory of her grandson, Joey Moore who also preceded her.
