Preston; her step-son, Dennis Brown, Jr.; her step-daughter, Danielle Brown; her grandson, Grayson; and her sisters, Marva P. Spicer, and Melbra Skea. She also leaves her aunts and uncles, Evelyn R. and Clifford Alford, Almarie Parker, and William Roberts; a nephew, Darrell Gilbert, Jr.; special cousins, Derrick Roberts, and Debbie

Ervin with whom she was raised like brother and sisters. Amanda leaves her goddaughter, Shauntavia Sawyer and grand-godchildren, Jah'Liah, and Jah'Lil; and her former husband, Dennis Brown, Sr. She was predeceased by her one and only niece, Tarella Preston.

In keeping with Amanda "Gadget's" wishes, the family will honor and commemorate her life at a private time.

“ Mandy was one of my favorite cousins. There wasn't anything I couldn't say to her. She wouldn't pass judgement she would just listen. Many was that cousin that has your back no matter what. I remember my wedding she was the coordinator and she held her job to the upmost. My wedding gown was from Mandy . She designed it and wouldn't let my grandparent pay her for it. Mandy and her husband Dennis are my daughters Godparents. I wouldn't have entrusted my daughter to no o e else but her and that's a fact. Shauntavia couldn't spend much time with her. But she never misses a call or birthday, holiday with out telling us she loves us. Mandy I will love you till the end of my life. Our love for you is til death due ya part.

“ Mandy was the Cousin I can always depend on, we grew up like sisters and shared many of the same things. I always remembered us all catching Chicken Pox from my brother, Derrick, and Mandy, Melbra and I were stuck in the bed together, scratching and putting that pink lotion on. Aunt Lil yelling at us to stop scratching, so much fun, though...I will always remembered you for your strength, and the time you marched to the HS with a stick to protect me from a fight... I miss you so much and do me a favor say hello to Aunt Lil and Cousin Lucinda. I love you so much!
