“ To Elige and Ardine,

I am sorry I could not be there in person with the both of you please know that you are both in my thoughts constantly.

And Elige I know there is nothing that can take the pain of your loss away but I pray that you can gain some comfort from the hope that was instilled in us through our upbringing.....John 5:28,29; "And all those in the memorial tombs will hear his voice and come out."

“ Dear Ardine,

Tears are rolling down my face because this is a letter i never wanted to write and Im trying to search for words that will explain how sorry I am for your loss and I'm so sorry I cant be there for you and be the protective caring sister that you've always known but just like Emari I am with you in spirit. I cant imagine the pain you feel right now and im not even gonna pretend like I do but trust me when I say that time heals all wounds and the tears you cry for Emari right now will turn into sweet memories of Emari. God wouldn't put more on you then you can handle and I know right now it may seem that this pain will never pass but just remember that the pain you endure now only last for a night but joy always comes in the morning. As your big sister I wish I could protect you from the pain and take it away but I cant. All I can do is pray for you and ask God to protect and heal you and that he will. I promise! Even at your lowest days Ardine continue to keep your head up like I taught you because even though he didnt make it beyond your belly he knows that you love him and he knew that you were always happy and Mari would want you to continue to be happy, to be strong, and know that he's in a better place and know that the angels are taking care of him just like you would have. I maybe in Florida but im only a phone call away and you know I will always be there for you. I love you always and God bless you baby sis... R.I.P Emari

*Love,
Kayla*

“ Dear Emari,

Even though your time on this earth was never met I pray that you will be a good little boy for God and all the beautiful angels that will be caring for you. Breaks my heart that I couldnt be there with the rest of the family to say goodbye holding you, kissing you, taking pictures and dressing you. My heart hurts so bad for you right now and I find myself keep asking God why you? Why my nephew? but I now realize that I cant question God because God only takes the best and he proved that to me the day he took you back. God took you back because he needed you and he has opened the heaven gates for you Emari so fly with the angels and dont be scared because your in really good hands. I doubt you will ever feel alone, sad, or hurt but if for some reason you do feel free to look down on your family anytime because we love you very much and you will forever be in our hearts and while your looking down please make sure you look down on your mother, my sister and protect her because she misses you so much and she is taking losing you pretty hard and sadly I cant be there to comfort her so do me that favor and protect her for me Emari. With all my heart I love you and this wont be the last time you hear from me so sleep tight and dont let the bed bugs bite... Lol

*Love,
Auntie Kayla*
