“ Every since I was little I remember going to Aunt Barb's house on Christmas Eve and playing with all my cousins. We would get into fights over the dumbest things and just have fun while all the adults stayed up talking. I miss her very much but I will always remember her when she was alive and healthy. I know that she is in a better place. I love her and miss her much and I know that everyone misses her. She will always be in my heart. -Rachel###imported-begin###Rachel Hayes###imported-end###

“ I don't know how I am going to go on without my sissy. She was everything in the world that a sister should be. She was an inspiration to everyone she touched during her illness. She fought her everyday battles with a courage and strength I didn't know existed. She is finally at peace in the arms of the Lord and for that I am grateful. Rest in peace Sissy I love you. Your devoted sister

“ From a very young age, I remember Aunt Barb always having fun, and how I always had fun around her. I remember sleeping over on Tryon Road and playing Big Wheels in the basement with all my cousins, many Christmas Eve's at her and Uncle Joe's, and dancing at any family occasion we could. She was always stunning and smiling. That's how I will remember her!
Aunt Barb will always hold a special place in my heart.##imported-begin##Jill Hayes##imported-end##

“ After hearing the news of Barbara Jean I've been racing through my collection of memories. In all of my recollections there is a smile on her face. There is only one other person I remember this way and it was my uncle Frank, her father. I always had a great affection for my older cousin and although it has been sometime since I had seen her, I loved her. I will miss her and will always fondly remember her with a smile on her face.
