“ I knew John when we were boys and I was deeply saddened to learn of his death. John was an affable companion and partner in crime. Stephen King once remarked that one never has better friends than those one has at age twelve. I count myself fortunate to have had John as a friend at that age. I dug out our 1963 graduation photo from Roosevelt School and spent time remembering John fondly. My condolences to his family and to all those who were blessed, as I was, to have had him in their life. May he rest in peace.

“ Jim & Betsy,
There are no words that ease the loss of a sibling and a friend. I hope that the happier memories you have of Jack soften your sorrow.

“ Barb, Jim & Betsy,
Mark and I are so sorry for your loss.
Knowing the rough times he had been experiencing, we hope there is comfort in the fact that he is now free from all pain. Also be consoled by that fact that you always did whatever it took to be there for Jack.
Much love, Mark and Mary Lee
