*To my best friend and sister, You were the best ever!!!
Even through your private storms you reached out to find out how I was doing. Never missing a birthday of mine, or my son.
Thank you for showing me, what it truly meant to always have my back.
So many memories of our children growing up together, it was real. I will miss you, but I know you will be added to my list of guardian angels making sure I do the right things. I will never forget the journey from small children to adults. We made it this far and now you have taken a new path. Until we meet again, Dear Friend/ My Sister!*
